LETTER NUMBER II.

MINIATURE ALMANAC.
EUBARY, Sun. Sun. Moon's Phases.

MONDAY, FEBRUARY 19, 1855.

100 For amusements, action Sales
&c. see appropriate heads.

100 The entertainment at Mozart Hall, for the benefit of the poor, was well attended.

100 The funeral of Mr. A. D. Ehrlich was largely attended by the Masonic order, on yesterday.

100 The small pug is raging to a considerable extent among the soldiers at the Newport Barracks.

100 The Supreme Court of New York has decided that a contract for inserting an advertisement in a paper on Sunday is lawful.

100 The New York Tribune claims that over $3,000 was gained out of that establishment, the year past, by means of libel suits.

100 The Philadelphia North American has a long lead upon the merits of their new steam fire engine.

100 There are a great many houses vacant in Dayton at the present time. Rents are going down.

100 The Criminal Court commences its operations to-day. Several interesting cases are to be tried at this term.

100 A frame house on First street, between Green and Walnut, was partially destroyed by fire, about 10 o'clock last night. Jas. Rudd, Esq., was the owner.

100 The Poco — The dramatic festival amateur performers, at Cincinnati on Friday night, netted more than $4,500 for the poor. Justifiably expanded, that amount will relieve many needy persons.

100 ACCIDENTAL SHOT.—A man, name not known, shot himself by accident on Preston street, yesterday. He had borrowed the pistol to shoot somebody else, made a mistake, and tried the effect on himself first. The wound is not serious.

100 Death of Dr. RODGERS.—Dr. Coleman Rodgers, one of the best physicians in this city, died on Saturday. A meeting of physicians was held, in which resolutions, as a tribute of respect, were passed. Dr. Rodgers' funeral took place on Sunday.

100 READER, remember that Mr. C. G. Spencer sells this morning, at 10 o'clock, the entire household furniture of Mr. T. Pollard, at his residence, on Walnut street, between Seventh and Eighth. This furniture is nearly new, and of the best and most fashionable kind. Bargains may be expected, as the owner intends to quit housekeeping.

100 A proposition was made to Mayor Wood, of New York, a few days since, to get rid of the Belgian paupers and convicts now confined in the Toombs, by sending them west. His Mayor's answer is worthy of all praise. He says if the Belgians are not fit to be turned loose in the West.

100 NORICS TO ENRICO.—Our clever friends E. A. Bigelow and J. W. Prince, the former agent for Jackson's Household Bitters, and Carter's Spanish Mixture, the latter agent for Ayr's Cherry Pectoral, leave for New York to-morrow. They have a very pleasant way of advertising largely and paying for it. We commend them to the press as gentlemen in the truest sense of the term.

100 ARREST.—A German woman, large, robust, and hairy, with a name unsavory and unpronounceable, was arrested by officer Ratcliffe on Saturday night, charged with stealing a silver watch, and a pocket book containing $300, from a countryman. They had met at Henningsen's, or Marshall street; the countryman, who was tight, accompanied the damsel on her way home, and she says took certain liberties, to which she didn't object. She denies robbing him, and says he gave her the watch, &c., for value received. The case will come up before the police court this morning.

100 Kinkel's Knights Opera Troupe performed in Frankfort on Friday and Saturday evenings, to full houses. The hall on Friday evening was so crowded, that quite a number of persons were unable to procure seats. They perform in Lexington to-night and to-morrow night. The complimentary benefit tendered to the Kinkels, by the Mayor, and citizens of Louisville, takes place at Mozart Hall on Wednesday evening next. Several distinguished artists will appear on the occasion, in addition to the company, and the entertainment will undoubtedly be one of the most brilliant that ever took place in Louisville.

100 LOUISVILLE DRAMATIC ASSOCIATION.—This company of Thespians will open their series of dramatic representations this evening, at Mozart Hall. The scenery and costumes are entirely new, and are gotten up with much taste and beauty. We understand that up to Saturday morning six hundred tickets had been sold. This is a sufficient quantity for the most brilliant audience that ever assembled in Mozart Hall. The company is one of much dramatic strength—the properties are appropriate and tasteful—and the bill is highly attractive, and, above all, it is for the benefit of the Poor.

100 TAYLOR'S LECTURE.—We promise our readers a rare treat in the lecture, which they will have an opportunity of hearing this evening, from Bayard Taylor, Esq.

100 It would be superfluous in us to attempt, by any praise of ours, to add to the well deserved reputation of the lecturer, as a poet and a tragedian. Most of the lecture-going community remember his lectures on India and Japan. This evening, his subject is India, and we doubt not, he will be greeted with a large and intelligent audience. He lectures in the Chestnut Street Presbyterian Church, at 7 o'clock. To-morrow night his subject will be "The Philanthropy of Travel."
